Nexeo Solutions to Expand Portfolio in Personal Care, Home Care and Agriculture Markets

THE WOODLANDS, Texas, March 22, 2018 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Nexeo Solutions, Inc. (NASDAQ:NXEO) a leader in chemicals and plastics distribution, announced today it has expanded its partnership with Solvay across a portfolio of products within Home Care, Personal Care and Agriculture markets. This decision comes as a result of consolidation and rationalization efforts that will help Solvay focus on the innovation pipeline for these key markets. Under this agreement, all specifications and manufacturing locations remain the same.

The agreement includes the following products: AG-RHO™ FM 3896, AG-RHO™ FM 5100, AG-RHO™ FM 5101, Cationic Activator 671, HYPONIC® OP-90, Mackadet® EQ 112, Mackalene® 426, Mackalene® 426 K, Mackalene® 426-100, Mackconditioner CBC Flake, Mackine® 301 Flake, Mackine® 601, Mackpearl® 202, Mackpearl® DR-113, Mackpearl® EQ-99, Miranate® B, Miranate® LEC-80, Polycare® 133, and Rhodoclean® ASP. Effective May 1st, Solvay will no longer offer these products for sale in the Americas and Nexeo Solutions will be the commercial source for these products.

"Solvay has very attractive technologies that will help us support customers and drive product development in home care and personal care, as well as agriculture. It is a very attractive segment of chemistries that support products from shampoos and hair conditioning all the way into floor care. This breadth of products offers Nexeo a unique chance to interact with our customers across broad market fields," said Joey Gullion, Vice President of Specialty Chemicals at Nexeo Solutions. "We are eager for our experienced sales and technical teams to work with our customers and help them formulate complete solutions and products, with reliable chemistries across value chain and at varied price points."

"This agreement continues our strong progress of deepening our portfolio in key markets, as part of our overall Chemicals strategy," said Brian Herington, Executive Vice President of Chemicals for Nexeo Solutions. "This agreement serves as another example of the strong relationship that we already share with Solvay across a broad range of markets."
